

PACIFIC COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

2020 Annual Report

Who We Are and What We Do

Founded in 2012 to help develop a strong culture of giving along the southwest Washington coast, the foundation was originally named the South Pacific County Community Foundation.

Today, with an expanded area of influence and updated name, the mission of the Pacific Community Foundation (PCF) is to demonstrate leadership in philanthropy to foster a dynamic community.

Our vision is that our community will thrive, with healthy families, and will provide opportunity for all ages.

PCF grows endowments, distributes grants and supports nonprofits throughout the Pacific County community on the south coast of Washington. While our original focus was on south Pacific County, today we work county-wide with nonprofit organizations to benefit all areas of our community. We also work outside our borders to benefit the larger community of the lower Columbia River, including west Wahkiakum County, which sends its children to school in Naselle.

We see our relatively small population, our rural setting and our remoteness as singular advantages . . . for these foster a sense of togetherness and helping one another as friends and neighbors.

Message from Todd Wiegardt, President, Pacific Community Foundation

The year 2020 was a year of challenges and, sometimes, heartbreak for all of us. But it also was a year of encouragement and perseverance. The community rose to the challenges in extraordinary ways to meet the needs of our neighbors. We at Pacific Community Foundation are humbled we were able to take part in helping our community help itself. Thank you for your support.

Growth Over the Years

The Foundation's focus on increased outreach and broader community involvement has resulted in dramatic increases in participation and total giving. Individual contributions reached an all-time high in 2020 as many donors joined our monthly giving program, especially in support of efforts to mitigate the impact of the pandemic.

What Our Community Accomplished in 2020

We targeted two specific areas of giving in 2020:

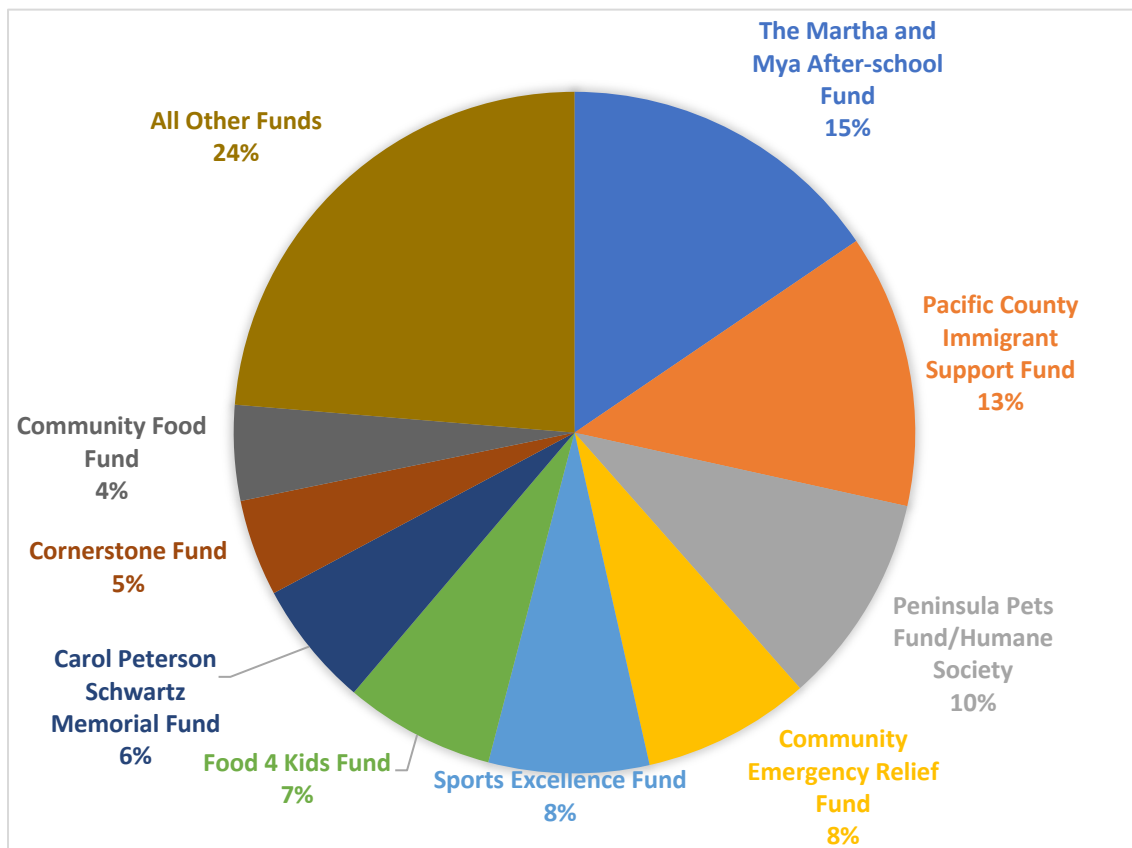

- In the spring of 2020 we established six Critical Needs Funds to address the immediate needs of our community as a result of the Covid-19 pandemic.
 - Community Emergency Relief Fund – Grants to local nonprofits providing Covid-19 relief support services.
 - Community Food Fund – Grants to local food banks and other food providers.
 - Covid-19 Isolation Unit at OBHF Fund – Grants to Ocean Beach Hospital Foundation in establishing an isolation unit for current and future Covid-19 patients.
 - Food 4 Kids Fund – Support for securing and delivering food to school children at their homes during the Covid-19 remote learning and lockdowns.
 - Pacific County Immigrant Support Fund – Helps immigrant families impacted by Covid-19, including rent, utilities and other critical needs.
 - Peninsula Pets Fund – Supports local animal shelter, keeping dogs and cats clean, safe, warm and cared for while they await adoption.

A total of 227 donations totaling $39,860 were received and distributed in conjunction with these Critical Needs initiatives.

- Our regular twice-a-year Grants Catalogs were combined into a single effort in December focusing on year-end giving. This yielded the largest giving event in our history . . . Some 96 donations totaling $31,070 supported ten local nonprofit organizations.
 - Bayside Singers
 - Beach Bum Diaper Bank
 - Grass Roots Garbage Gang (beach cleanup)
 - Food 4 Kids (hosted by Long Beach Elks Lodge #1937)
 - Long Beach Peninsula Acoustic Music Foundation
 - Pacific County Immigrant Support
 - Pack 2 School
 - Rotary Club of Southwest Pacific County
 - Sea Resources Inc.
 - South Pacific County Humane Society

We are so grateful to the wonderful outreach and open hearts of our community members and other donors!

Getting the Word Out

Using blog posts and social media to get the word out . . . Some excerpts from 2020

Shop at big box stores? Buy for food banks too.

Get a case or two of food for the Food Bank with every visit. If you garden, add a row of potatoes, squash, cabbage, peas.

The Community Food Fund provided much-needed cash to local food banks even as PCF called upon individuals to make direct donations.

Community Matters— Supporting Our Pets During This Pandemic

Donations to operate the no-kill shelter were dropping off as the pandemic intensified.

The Peninsula Pet Fund helped keep the Humane Society shelter open and operating.

Our Community's COVID-19 Preparedness Needs

With the rise of COVID-19, there are new unexpected impacts— people out of work and running out of money.

PCF opened an emergency relief fund to help local support organizations. This fund makes regular grants to local organizations that help people, especially families, while this health crisis impacts our communities.
